To Whom It May Concern:

On Thursday, September 18, 2014, Kimberly Wahamaa spoke at the Sudbury Women's Centre Annual General Meeting. We had the opportunity to hear her inspiring story about her life journey. Kimberly spoke brilliantly about her life experiences in an unhealthy relationship, living through a white water rafting accident and surviving breast cancer.

She had an amazing ability to capture our attention and keep our interest throughout the entire presentation. One of the reasons for this was her ability to share her story without coating any of the harsh realities. She shared the physical and mental effects of chemotherapy in a way that most had never heard before.

Although Kimberly shared her struggles in her life, she also shared her strength. Her story is filled with successes and triumphs. She tells how she has taken her struggles and turned them into positive outcomes by giving back to the community. Through her work she is able to increase awareness among both women and men who have breast cancer and the measures they can take to try and prevent it.

She is a truly amazing person with an incredible story that will inspire anyone who hears it. I would highly recommend that Kimberly be invited to speak at any annual general meeting to share her inspiring story.

Sincerely,
